

Rotarians as Teachers 2008

We have some great "RATS" in the Rotary Club of Inverness. On November 19, 2008, our Rotarians As Teachers members went to Citrus High School in Inverness as part of the Great American Teach-In.

They included:

- V. Lionel King with teacher Marie Wilber in 9th and 10th grade English classes -- exploring prejudice, race relations in the US, and the Holocaust
- Former law enforcement officer Eloy Nunez with teacher Ed Bodanske in Psychology -- discussing hostage negotiations
- Banker James Segovia with teacher Teresa Cooke in Business classes -- talking about finance and banking
- Ron Lundberg with teacher Gina Armstrong in AVID Careers Direction classes -- talking about self-motivation and success
- Circuit judge Trish Thomas with teacher Bruce Nelson in Government -- discussing our judicial system

Thanks to honorary club member and school liaison Bonnie Ryback and to Citrus High for inviting us! We enjoy sharing our vocations and working with young people.

*RATs in the classroom pictured clockwise from right: Patricia Thomas,
V. Lionel King, Eloy Nunez*

